

STARVATION SIEGE IN SYRIA

By Shay M.

Thesis Statement: Although in many countries changes in control have been peaceful, the Syrian government is currently assembling a “starvation siege” to oppress the revolutionaries trying to keep them from fleeing Syria, because the government wants total power.

800,000 people are under siege

The UN estimated 20,000 people to be in the camps still

900 parcels of food had been delivered

Some disease are rickets, polio, and anemia

More than 89 people mostly children and elderly have died

Children under the age of one and elderly over 65 accounts for 60% of the death

Some people are only drinking water